

Car Hits Fire Hydrant, Home Area Flooded

Control Blocked For Hour

By FRED C. WEIGEL

A careening automobile, sliding out of control on slippery sand, smashed into a fire plug at the intersection of Sunny Dunes Road and El Cielo Sunday afternoon, and set off a series of events which took police, firemen, water company employees, and a dozen volunteer workers almost an hour to control.

The car, driven by James Owen Creighton, 27, of Riverside, slid in sand on the street as he turned off El Cielo onto Sunny Dunes, and cut off a fire water main some six to eight feet below ground.

A GEYSER OF water shot into the air, but only for a moment, and then it settled down to a churning torrent of water and mud, flooding in all directions, cutting a huge crater at the spot, flooding down El Cielo Road cutting soft sand away from the pavement and undermining it, and pouring east on Sunny Dunes and south on Palm Avenue.

In front of some of the homes on Palm Avenue, driveways were separated from the street pavement by ditches — some 12 to 18 inches deep.

MANY RESIDENTS of the area rushed to the scene, some to watch, and others to help. A half dozen boys obtained shovels and attempted to build a channel and a dike to keep the waters from flooding a home at the street corner.

Salt and sand covered the street with a thick layer that obscured water main covers, and after an intense search, a main valve was found, but the concussion of the crash had damaged the valve so badly that it could not be used to turn off the flood of water.

A SMALL GIRL, Linda Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Campbell, wading barefoot at the edge of the churning, muddy waters, was caught by a small cave-in which pulled her down — over her head — into the already growing crater. A neighbor, Bud Steger, grabbed the child and pulled her out, wet but unharmed.

Main water valves, which serve the entire section of the city, had to be shut off, and after the flow of water was stopped, a hole was cut into the street to clear the damaged valve which had been badly bent by the force of the crash.

Palm Springs public works department set up barricades to warn drivers of the washout, and both the Palm Springs Water Company and the city started today repairing the damage.

Drunk Driving Follows 2-Car Accident Here

Minor injuries were sustained by 20-year-old Dianna Marie Bucia at approximately 12:35 a.m. Sunday, when the car in which she was riding was involved in a collision with an automobile which came from the opposite direction without lights, and in the same lane at Highway 111 and Camino Real, police reported.

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower today nominated two new members of the Federal Power Commission and the White House announced that he henceforth will not select commission members as representing either consumer, gas or oil interests.

10,000 Copies

Saturation Drive For PD Directory

PALM DESERT — Every hotel, service station and shop in Palm Desert will soon be displaying copies of the Chamber of Commerce's business directory.

Don McNeilly, manager, said today that it will contain more than 60 classes and 180 names with information on Palm Desert businesses.

DESIGNED SO THAT it can be mailed by visitors and tourists, the directory is expected to be in shops within a few days, McNeilly said.

PALM SPRINGS WATER Company employee, at left, sometimes up to his chest in water, searches for the main valve which will close off the water to the fire hydrant at Sunny Dunes and El Cielo Roads. The main was broken off several feet below the ground, and the impact had badly damaged the valve which was about 15 feet from where the fire plug was located. At right, water, mud, silt and desert foliage flow across the street in torrents as volunteer workers attempt to protect the lot across the street by building a sand and rock dam, and small children wade in the water along El Cielo. One child, Linda Campbell, getting too close to the broken main, was pulled into the swirling waters and dropped out of sight in a lake some seven feet deep. She was pulled from the gripping water and sand by a neighbor, Bud Steger. The car, driven by James Creighton of Riverside, is pictured at the left in the picture. It was necessary to have a tow truck pull the car out of the sand where it came to rest. (Desert Sun Photos)

CHESSMAN EXECUTED TODAY

New Student Riots Occur In Turkey

NATO Meeting Hears Warning By Eisenhower

ISTANBUL — (UPI) — Students clashed with police outside Istanbul's new city hall today but the rioting failed to halt a vital NATO conference which heard a warning from President Eisenhower against expecting any quick or spectacular results from the summit conference.

The Eisenhower message was read to the group by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter while 3,000 students marched on the building with chants of "freedom." Police beat them back.

SOME WERE injured and others were jailed.

Police, swinging rifle butts, charged into the front ranks of the students and knocked a score or more into a ditch, beating them. Other police units charged into a mosque and drove out students seeking refuge there.

The students reformed their ranks in some side streets, but there was no further violence. Thousands of additional troops stood by on the city's outskirts and about 100 tanks rumbled into the city hall area.

TURKISH FOREIGN Minister Rustu Zorlu took note of the 5-day-old student demonstrations in his speech of welcome to the NATO allies. He said they were sparked by small groups with "selfish political interests" and in no way affected Turkish support of NATO.

The manager said that the Chamber would also mail it to homes in Palm Desert.

"SMARTEST ADDRESS on the desert" will be another slogan across the front of the cover.

Approximately 10,000 copies will be printed and it will be updated each year.

LANGFORD EMPHASIZED that the figures do not include tax-exempt sales for consumption rather than resale, consisting primarily of sales of food for off-premise consumption in grocery store and of gasoline.

The number of outlets is tabulated every six months, he said.

750,000 Ask Troops in Berlin

BERLIN — (UPI) — More than 750,000 persons—the biggest crowd the city had ever seen — massed in West Berlin Sunday to demand that the Western Allies keep their troops there.

The huge crowd, including many residents of Berlin's Soviet sector, roared cheers for Mayor Willy Brandt's declaration that "we reject a Soviet-sponsored 'free city' plan that frees us of our freedom."

Across the line in Red Berlin, the Communists flouted four-power agreements with a parade of German soldiers, sailors and airmen staged to support the Soviet "free city" plan.

The U. S., British and French commanders of West Berlin denounced the Red parade as a "threat to public order."

Three Youngsters Capture Diamondback in Lunch Bucket

With this, John Frykman, 173 Palo Verde, told how he and two companions, David Dean and Cory Fredrickson, captured a diamond back rattler near Tahquitz

COUPLE ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY

BEAUMONT — Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Brensing, 378 Baristo Road, Palm Springs, escaped serious injury when their sports car plunged off the road and down a 30 foot embankment 1.5 miles south of the South Beaumont city limits at approximately 2:30 p.m., Saturday, pinning the couple underneath.

Brensing received minor injuries, and his wife, Elisa, was admitted to Pass Memorial Hospital here for X-rays and observation.

A HOSPITAL spokesman told The Desert Sun this morning that Mrs. Brensing was in "good condition," apparently suffering from lacerations of the scalp and face.

A passing motorist and witness, Donald Wieman, 1050 Alta Avenue, Beaumont, told the California Highway Patrol that he and an unidentified motorist lifted the little MG off the couple.

THE ACCIDENT in Lamb Canyon occurred when Brensing, southbound on the Beaumont-San Jacinto cut-off, swerved to the left of the road to avoid a vehicle he thought was parked in a curve.

He then saw an on-coming vehicle, and swerved back to the right, losing control of the vehicle when it struck a soft shoulder.

Fire Destroys House, Contents In DHS Area

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Efforts to save a $34,000 ranch house at the T-Cross-K and its contents, plus an adjoining garage — well house and contents valued at $5,000, drew five fire fighting units of the State Division of Forestry from Desert Hot Springs, North Palm Springs, Beaumont, Perris, and San Jacinto at 3:40 p.m., Saturday, at the ranch home of Lisa K. Burnham, near here.

The house and well house, with contents, were destroyed, but a nearby 30 x 35 foot structure was saved. The house saved was valued at approximately $10,000.

Military Might Shown in Russia

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia's May Day parade this year featured a massive show of military might including a 1,000-mile ballistic missile and a self-propelled 16-inch atomic field gun.

Altogether about 40 rockets of varying sizes were shown, building up to the "mammoth" intermediate-range missile. The parade also included amphibious armored troop carriers, tanks and field artillery.

The big rocket and the atomic gun resembled weapons displayed in the 1957 May Day parade. Military experts were uncertain whether they were the same weapons or improved models.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev and other Russian leaders watched the parade from the top of the Lenin-Stalin tomb on Red Square.

BEST SCHOOL BUS DRIVER TO HAVE SPECIAL AWARD

The outstanding bus driver of the Palm Springs Unified School District will be named during the annual safety award luncheon sponsored by the Palm Springs Safety Council at noon May 9.

The outstanding driver will be chosen on the basis of the evaluation program conducted during the past 18 weeks by directors of the Safety Council. The committee included chairwoman Marcia Esbitt, and members Mary Hill, Madeline Gallera, and Dr. George Milkie.

Those participating in the award will be all the district bus drivers, directors of the Safety Council, Chief Keltman and Sergeant Young of the local police department, Officer Wills of the California Highway Patrol and Palm Springs Unified School District officials.

30 Minute Stay Arrives Late

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — Caryl Chessman, 38, died calmly in the gas chamber today. While the execution was under way a federal judge said he would have granted a half hour stay if Chessman's attorneys had "been on time."

Chessman died with the words "It's all right" on his lips. He entered the gas chamber at 10:02 a.m.

He was strapped to the chair, smiled thinly and said "goodbye" to the guards.

CHESSMAN TURNED to the right, looking straight into the faces of several reporters who knew him and winked.

He repeatedly made lip movements apparently saying, "It's okay, it's all right, and it's a tight strap."

At 10:03 a splashing sound was heard as the cyanide pellets dropped into the sulphuric acid below his seat.

The kidnaper-sex terrorist's head jerked backward and upward as he got his first whiff of the putrid peach-blossom odor.

U. S. DISTRICT Judge Louis E. Goodman picked up the phone to call the warden to grant a half-hour stay of execution when the pellets were being dropped. Goodman said that attorneys George T. Davis and Rosalie Asher took so much time making their plea besides entering it late that it was impossible for him to reach the warden in time.

Chessman flinched each time he took a breath. But he had been unconscious from the instant he smelled the gas, according to prison officials.

Thus ended the incredible story of an obscure habitual criminal who after entering death row became a best-selling author, self-taught legal expert and world-wide symbol in the campaign against capital punishment.

DURING HIS years on death row, Chessman saw 93 men and one woman pass his cell en route to the gas chamber.

He wrote four books, including "Cell 2455, Death Row," which sold half a million copies.

His more than $100,000 in earnings helped finance the legal moves he master-minded himself to cheat the gas chamber. He made nearly 50 appeals to various courts.

As he died, demonstrators protesting against his execution clustered outside the San Quentin gates, the Governor's Mansion in Sacramento and the Supreme Court Building in San Francisco, on officials.

2 Types of 'Burn'

Mishaps in Area Of Wide Variety

INDIO — Mishaps in the news this weekend ranged from "heartburn" to powder burn, with a scorched house to round out the box score.

Frank W. Danner, 45-840 King Street near here, may possess a quicker draw than toe, sheriff's deputies reported today. They related that Danner shot himself in the left big toe while practicing a quick draw with a quicker gun.

FIVE YEAR-OLD Joe Perez, Jr., son of the foreman of the A. P. Keck ranch at 47-342 Madison Street near here found a cigarette lighter, and ran a test on his technique.

He was pretty good. Rags ignited, starting a fire resulting in damage estimated at $200. Rancher Keck said only that he was glad no one was hurt. The senior Perez' comments weren't reported.

AND A 58-YEAR-OLD farm laborer from the Indio area, Charles Maddox, sought relief from "heartburn" by picking up a bottle of tension and indigestion relief tablets which were on a stand outside a grocery store at 91-180 Second Street, Mecca, at approximately 5:10 a.m. today.

His pain increased when he was arrested by a patrolman who was guarding the material, left outside after a fire at 8:30 p.m., Sunday. Commented Maddox, "I thought they were some things that had been thrown away on the street."

MARINES TO RETIRE 75 MM. 'ACK-ACK' GUN IN CEREMONY

TWENTYNINE PALMS — Another era in Marine Corps history has been completed. The 75 millimeter antiaircraft artillery "Gun" has been fired for the last time in the regular service.

On April 21, Capt. M. C. Kramer, commanding officer of Alpha Battery, First 75 millimeter Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion, "cranked" off the last round fired from the 75 mm "Skysweeper" gun.

The rapid firing artillery weapon has been retired from active service in favor of the new streamlined combat efficiency policy of the Marine Corps. The Hawk Missile will be integrated into the service in place of the 75 mm weapon.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am tired of hearing mothers complain about how "commercialized" Mother's Day has become. Some mothers are so ungracious as to tell their children, "Don't give me any presents—I don't need anything."

If mothers used their heads, they would realize that their children WANT to honor them with a special gift on this day. Please say something to those thoughtless mothers who discourage their children from buying them a gift on Mother's Day.

her child to deprive himself of anything to buy her a gift.

An original poem or letter costs nothing and is cherished most. When I was a child, I heard those words from my own mother, I wrote her how much I appreciated her. Only after she passed away did I realize how much they had meant to her.

She had kept them all.

DEAR ABBY: I am ten and I can't figure this out. How come there is a Mother's Day and everybody buys gifts and makes a big fuss over mothers and the same thing happens to fathers on Father's Day, but there isn't any Children's Day?

DEAR WONDERING: Children's Day is the longest celebration of the year. It begins Jan. 1 and ends Dec. 31.

This was written on Mother's Day, in tribute to his Mother, by a young prisoner who was awaiting execution in San Quentin: "A crime was committed and there was an arrest, and a boy was thrown into a cell. The crime was great, the boy was young and the cell was dark. Life seemed at an end and hell became a living thing."

Then one day as the boy sat weeping in his cell, he looked up to see his mother. She was smiling. She opened her arms and said, "My boy, did you think I would not come to you?" And suddenly the boy forgot his terror and found comfort in the magic circle of his mother's arms.

"Through the dark that shrouded the hill of Calvary, a voice cried, 'Son, behold thy mother.' And Mary kneeled at the foot of the cross. That was a cross of glory, but had it been one of shame, Mary would have been there."

"For every son who crucifies himself on pillars of hate, weakness and greed, there at the foot of the cross you will find his mother. Your mother and mine. God bless them, here and beyond. They have known so much pain."

CHP IN WARNING ON DRIVER SIGNALS

SACRAMENTO — Signal your intention to turn or to change lanes and cut down your chances of getting into an intersection or side-wipe collision.

This word of advice comes from Bradford M. Crittenden, commissioner of the California Highway Patrol, who added that signals must be given continuously during the last 100 feet before changing the course of travel.

"The basic reason for signals is to let the other driver know in advance what you plan to do and thus enable him to adjust his driving accordingly," Crittenden continued.

"Positive signals properly given will aid the smooth flow of traffic and help prevent collisions involving turning movements."

The Patrol commissioner also cautioned motorists to make sure their electrical signal devices are not flashing when they do not plan to turn or change lanes. Improper signaling, he said, adds to the hazards of driving rather than reducing them.

Advice on Health

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Dr. Dalton Vernon, University of Vermont human relations specialist, says "the foundation for mental health is laid in childhood."

He said, "the happy, healthy child is much less likely to fall prey to mental illness in later life than the unhappy, timid and fearful child. Everyone, no matter how strong, has a breaking point."

Do You Call That Religion?

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It wouldn't appear from anything they recently said that Candidates Nixon and Kennedy understand what the religious issue of 1960 is all about. Speaking last week before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the two poll-leading aspirants hit these odd attitudes:

Oh, platitudes, they name is Nixon: The Vice President, without a trace of shame before a roomful of editors, reached for a hip-pocket swing of Old Sloganeer. Religion, he said, "will be an issue exactly to the extent that the candidates and those who support them continue to make it an issue."

WHILE THIS MAY be acceptable sing-song campaign oratory, it is skin-deep thinking. What candidates have made religion an issue? Is Nixon talking about Kennedy, about Humphrey about Symington, about Johnson, about Rockefeller, about himself? The only candidate-supporter who comes within shouting distance of the Nixon indictment is Senator Robert Byrd (D., W. Va.). Surely Byrd is not personally responsible for the nation-wide interest in this subject.

No, religion is a people's issue. There is hardly a home in the USA where people don't have strong feelings about their own church. This often regrettably means feelings against other churches, but people are like that. It would surprise me if Americans didn't care more deeply about their community place of worship than about their Congressman and his party.

THE VICE PRESIDENT apparently felt that one good banality deserves another. Religion, he added, could be a legitimate issue only "if one of the candidates for the Presidency had no religious belief." But if Nixon were trying to demonstrate his tolerance and intellectual liberalism, he should have said something else. Surely freedom in this case means the right to believe anything — or nothing — about God.

The three most famous non-believers in our history may be Tom Paine, Clarence Darrow and H. L. Mencken — one a great friend of the American Revolution, the second a compassionate friend of the underdog, the third a fierce enemy of uncombed and an ardent lover of truth.

Religious tolerance, as envisioned by Jefferson, himself a bit of a skeptic, should provide equal protection — no more, no less — to the agnostic, the Catholic and the Holy Roller. But the Vice President, speaking to a literate, intelligent group, gave out with hokum — and, what's worse, seemed to get away with it.

OH, WRAP ME IN the Flag and Constitution: Senator Jack Kennedy vowed the editors by using blame-giving of a more forthright nature than Nixon's. Kennedy chided the nation's press for raising the issue, which he says, is not an issue, anyhow. This is not a new approach. Minnesota Governor Orville Freeman, manager of Kennedy's chief primary rival, Senator Hubert Humphrey, told some of us much the same thing after the Wisconsin primary. He seemed to think that if the press would just look the other way, there would be no religious issue in these elections. But Kennedy, Freeman and Humphrey are all intelligent men. They ought to know that prejudice is as immutable a law as gravitation. A candidate, like an aircraft, has to rise above it if he's to get anywhere.

KENNEDY'S VIGOR and headlong will-to-win are the elements which could lift him. These fighting qualities are gaining him a deferred opportunity to mount on high. "You could feel the adrenaline running . . . I see now how he swam five miles in the Pacific with a broken back!"

These were some of the comments of his listeners at the ASNE Convention address. Jack Kennedy is still suffering from the earlier - drawn image of the youthful hair-shock and (particularly in West Virginia) from the prejudicial (and unavoidable) contrast of rich boy vs. poor boy in his contest with Humphrey. But Jack is no "boy" — he is a hard, high - strung, ambitious, able and determined man who is out to prove himself a statesman.

WHY NOT EXACTLY pulling "I hold in my hand" techniques, Kennedy is using both the Stars and Stripes and the Constitution to smother the religious issue. It's no compliment to democracy when he asks his audience to agree with him that military service is a qualification for the Presidency, or that the Constitution gave him any "right" to their votes.

Article Six merely says that "President" Kennedy could take the oath of office and "no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification . . ." — but so could an atheist. The First Amendment says, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof . . ." But it is a valid, even a phony, non sequitur to cite this innocent passage as a campaign argument.

You could call their recent speeches a "religious test" for Nixon and Kennedy. Well, both of them flunked it.

Annual Death Throes

NEW YORK — A club I belong to is in the death throes of its annual election, and if there's any more painful aspect of democracy it hasn't come to my attention. Khrushchev might have something, at that . . .

Nuzzle up to one of Jimmy's martinis — so dry you have to brush the dust off them — and get ready for that first lifesaving and morale building swallow and, alas, you sense that something is direly wrong. Not with the drink, but with you.

YOU FEEL SEVERAL sets of great hurt eyes staring at the back of your neck reproachfully, more in sorrow than in anger. They are the eyes of seekers of high office in the club. You have not come out for any of them, and each individually suspects that you're opposed to him. Only the greatest exercise of self-control can they resist the temptation to grab you by the lapels and, on the brink of tears, demand hoarsely, "What did I ever do to make you hate me?"

I don't know how it is in your club, but mine is now made up of men and women who are just hopelessly fascinated by the great game of politics. One is inclined to wonder what most of them do for a living at this time of the year, certainly they don't work at anything except running for office or running others for office.

WE HAVE THREE candidates for the presidency of our club. They are three outstanding men. Each would make a fine chief executive. In campaign literature, each has promised to clean up the mess, rout the rascals, return integrity to government, endorse freedom of the press and condemn the early cutting of dogwood. Each has a record cleaner than a bound's tooth. Not one wears another man's collar or is a creature of vested interests.

I've had a grand total of $3.10 worth of drinks knocked out of my hands or spilled by back-slapping campaign managers of the several dozen members running for various offices.

THEY ARE ALWAYS a curious lot, these campaign managers, at least they are around my club. Brandishing petitions, they come out of the woodwork once a year, by and large driven by much the same compulsion that prods the hapless lemming to the sea. They feel ordained to king-make, and they feel that the best way to make their admiration for Joe Glutz contagious is to belt a potential Glutz voter on the back, or break his fingers with a rousing handshake. They cost Joe more votes than they gain for him.

Ours used to be a very simple little club before it decided to take on the problems of the world. Nobody ever thought of running for office. We had a very efficient club secretary named Hester Hensell. About this time of year she'd give a fellow a call and say, "I've got news for you, Buster. You're going to be president of the club this coming year. Try to show up for the meeting Friday night."

Henry Quagmire is nominating you.

"OH, PLEASE. You must be kidding," you'd gasp in anguish. "Get some other chump. I don't have time to be president of anything. Besides, I haven't spoke to Quagmire since he turned state's evidence in the Peter Zenger trial."

"Don't forget, Friday night," Miss Hensell would trill. "Oh, and one other thing, I'll mail you your acceptance speech. Quagmire, by the way, will be vice president. Toodle-oo."

I GOT STUCK twice before I broke myself of the presidential habit. Other past presidents of the club have confided that the experience left searing scars and that the only thing they'll ever run for again is the 8:14 from Pelham Manor.

Yet, here we are ensnared in an election as grim as any on the national political scene. All laughter except the hollow kind has fled our friendly portals, not to return until the last ballot is counted and the hapless winners assume the togs of office — which will give them life or death power over what to do about the leaky men's room on the third floor and the price of hash brown potatoes at the Sportsman's Lunch. The rival candidates, dear friends hardly a month ago, barely nod as they move stiffly to their leather chairs in the library.

It was so much simpler in the dear dead days. Democracy has certainly loused things up. —Bob Considine

This Side Of The Sun

Give me music
Soft and lazy.
Rock 'n' Roll just Drives me crazy.

The above came to mind after scanning the schedule for special days, weeks and months to see what gives this week.

AND RIGHT THERE I saw it — another example of perfect timing by the people who figure out all of these special events and manage to get 200 weeks in a 52-week year.

Besides other things, this week is set aside as National Music Week and National Mental Health Week.

With some of the music we're getting these days, it's no wonder they have to have a National Mental Health Week.

BUT THINGS are getting better. The people who plot the TV and radio programs are recognizing their clientele.

TV and radio have a definite purpose. Practically every program is trying to sell something. To do good at that they've got to attract the people who can buy what they are offering.

Most of the adults who've got it made and have the money, don't like Rock 'n' Roll.

THEY WANT THEIR music smooth and easy to listen to. They want the stuff that was so popular when they were kids.

That's why I think things are getting better — from my viewpoint, that is.

We're getting more of the smooth ballads, the music with the rhythm, the danceable old tunes that bring back the memories of happy outings.

THAT'S WHY I think the TV commercials are doing some good. That is, forgetting the colorants and pills, etc., ads that dump the bathroom medicine cabinet on the living room floor.

They are influencing the kind of music we hear.

For the kids who love Rock 'n' Roll haven't got the spare change to buy the automobiles, or sock in the savings and loan associations.

AND THE OLD - TIMERS who have the cash, want to listen to the smoothies like Stardust, Begin the Beguine, Marie, Who — oh, there's a lot of them.

The situation is sort of reversing itself. There was a while that the only way you could get the easy stuff was to play records.

Now the kids, to get the hot numbers, are playing the records.

I LIKE THIS NEWSPAPER story of the reporter, well, he was more than that, he was a political writer.

This man went to a political meeting where Richard Nixon, vice president, spoke.

Among other things Nixon said was that the Republican party was not going to stand still on what it had done. Bigger things were in the future.

AFTER THE TALK, Nixon posed with his wife, Pat.

And the writer was horrified the next morning when he saw his story on the front page.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Baghdad by the Bayou

New Orleans. City of pralines. Creole gumbo. New Orleans coffee, fluffy donuts in the French Market and synthetic sin on Bourbon street.

"That will be $5.50, honey," said the lady bartender in the Thunderbar.

"WHAT! For one drink?"

"THE FIRST DRINK is always $5.50 honey." She was a comfortable, grandmother -type. Behind her on the barstool, the pride of Bourbon street, Miss Dollar Candy was stripping her exotic red gloves to the tune of a Dixieland band.

"What is the second round, ma'ma? $10.50?"

"WHY, NO, HONEY. Y'all can have the second for $1.55."

"Dollar day?"

"Is very expensive, no?" said Mr. Lemoine. Mr. Lemoine is a Frenchman on his first trip across the United States. I am showing him the native life.

What is more native than Bourbon street?

WE PICKED UP a car in Chicago. I borrowed a "compact," a Dodge Dart, for delivery on the West Coast.

The American small cars fascinate Jacques Lemoine. At home, he drives a fancy Renault Caravelle. You could put it in the trunk of our compact. However, our power windows and power brake and steering mechanism fascinate him. He runs the windows up and down constantly.

WE PUT THE CAR on the Delta Queen, a paddle - wheel steamer on the Mississippi.

Yesterday's rainy morning, we took off at Natchez and drove through the lush Louisiana bayou country. The redbirds were out like representatives of the Chamber of Commerce.

All along the road, people were selling huge Louisiana strawberries. The first of the season.

NEW ORLEANS is beginning the Spring Festival. (A replica of Andy Jackson landed in the old French Quarter this morning. He defied the British.)

This fascinating town has the best press agents and the poorest hotel system of all our American cities. Hotels here are constantly full. A week's advance request failed to get us into our favorite, the Monteleone.

HOWEVER, WE got a good corner room at the old St. Charles (now refurbished and renamed the Sheraton Charles). New Orleans oysters in the French Quarter were as good as I remembered.

The fresh strawberry shortcake — "tarte des fraises Americaine," said Jacques — was excellent.

"And now to the native American night life," I said.

BOUTON STREET is a must on all tourist lists. And when we arrived at the Thunderbar, the Gray line was unloading giggling, apprehensive ladies.

"Don't be alarmed, ladies," said the master of ceremonies.

"It's gay but it's all in fun."

A SERIES OF striptease ladies then walked out on the bar, more or less enthusiasm. The grandmotherly bar lady went around collecting $5.50 per glass.

A sleepy policeman dozed in the corner and the band played ed "Waitin' for the Robert E. Lee."

Miss Dollar Candy wrapped a diaphanous veil around her. She inquired archly if anyone could see through it. "I hope not," she said. I could see through it but did not make a voluntary statement. I think Miss Dollar Candy could lose 15 pounds to advantage. That is my opinion.

TWO OF THE previous ladies got dressed and came and sat with us. They said they surely hoped y'all are enjoyin' N'yawlines. They had something to drink. The grandmotherly bar lady collected $5.50 for each from M. Lemoine.

"Is very expensive, no?" said Mr. Lemoine.

"But toudjous gai," I said.

IT REMINDED me a good deal of evenings in Place Pigalle in Paris. Where they popped the cheapest champagne at $25 a bottle. And the lady who sat with us apparently thought it was going out of style. She should hurry and get tall she could.

America was revenged on France this night. You may now make a separate peace.

Vagaries of Fate

HOLLYWOOD — The Vagaries of Fate: On May 17 Vivian Vance opens in Chicago in a play called "Here Today." It seems like only yesterday, but it was right there in Chicago about 10 years ago, that Vivian suffered a nervous breakdown. It sent her into retirement for several months. Then she came to California for a complete rest. While here, she accepted a La Jolla Playhouse part in "The Voice of the Turtle."

Lucille Ball, just then rolling with her "I Love Lucy" show for TV, saw Vivian and signed her up. Result: Miss Vance, always a "strictly legit" actress, deserted the stage and started the most successful run of her career — in TV! . . . Vivian's fight back to health, via religion, the help of a dedicated analyst and her own courage — is one of the bravest in the annals of show-business.

DWAYNE (DOBIE GILLIS) Hickman went beating around the Beatnik bushes in Venice West (Calif.) until he found the man he was seeking — Eric "Big Daddy" Nord, Burra-Sahib of Southern California's Beats.

Dwayne collared Big Daddy in his hideaway, The Gas House, for a guest shot in one Dobie segment. Big Daddy yawned, "Pullease, remooove your Ivy League threads from the Presence," rolled over, went right back to sleep atop his stack of California Unemployment checks.

Hickman's brother Darryl, recently married to Pamela Lincoln, wanted blue drapes. Pamela wanted gray drapes. They compromised, Darryl tells me, on gray.

TV STARLET ASA Maynor will be the first Queen of a Las Vegas Tournament of Golf Champions who has ever herself played golf. Or, as Asa (Her self) says, "noodled with a niblick."

Jackie (Hennessey) Cooper believes TV is here to stay. He just bought a crock of stock in the cigaret company that sponsors his series.

Pat Boone's blueprint for modernizing Venice (he's been overseas slapping everything in sight on film for next season's TV shows): Pat presented a transistor radio to the always-on-call, always - on - key - with - "O-Sole-Mio" gent who paddled Pat's chartered gondola. I tell ya, the tourists are ruining Europe!

Cribbed from a closed "Cold 45" set: "My wife is very economical — we can do without practically everything I need."

JANET LEIGH forged ahead of Liz Taylor, for the first time, in a fan magazine's latest poll of teen-age readers. Miss Taylor isn't torching, however, about her faltering fan mail. After all Ingrid Bergman doesn't figure in the "fans" much any more — and even Peter Pan, Christopher Robin and Topsy "grewed up!"

Quit worrying (as if you were!) about how John Huston and Jean-Paul Sartre can possibly squeeze enough "dramatic stuff" out of the life of "the father of psychoanalysis" to film "Sigmund Freud." Average screenplay runs anywhere from 140 to 200 pages; Sartre's now rums 800. One source alone, Freud's "Origin and Development of Psychoanalysis," is packed with sufficient kookie "case histories" to keep Tennessee Williams working the rest of his life.

SETTLEMENT of the estate of the late NTG (showman Nils T. Granlund) is snagged over one of the homes he bought. Turns out its legal owner is one of NTG's discoveries. It was his "engagement gift" to the chorus girl who succeeded the late Maria Montez as "Technicolor Queen" at Universal. But the producer died before he could marry Yvonne DeCarlo, now the wife of Hollywood stuntman Bob Morgan.

Screenwriter Andres ("Bundy") Solt is scripting a new Las Vegas nightclub act for his fellow ex-Hungarian, Zsa Zsa Gabor. They first met when Zsa Zsa was Miss Budapest of 1938. The act is called "Un Trapezio Per Lysistrata." They're both very secretive about it but it sounds to me as though Zsa Zsa will be doing some readings from the works of Aristophanes while swinging from a trapeze.

THE SUMMITTEERS of Show-Biz (Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Peter Lawford) are planning a remake of "Gunga Din."

Jill St. John showed up to resume "The Lost World" weighing five pounds less than she did when the actors' strike shuttered the picture for 33 days.

Having become Mrs. Lance Reventlow in the interim, Jill says, "I don't understand it — unless it's because a gal who marries a racing man does a lot of worrying." Jill will have to worry that weight right back ON because today's scenes don't match the footage they filmed of her fancy pre-strike frame.

FUN IN THE SUN

Fashion Design IS Theater

By GEORGE LAINE

Palm Springs, which has become a sort of melting pot for various walks of life and multitudinous attitudes, doesn't reflect that "free-thinking" mode in the styles that you'll see up and down Palm Canyon Drive.

"Oh, said Barrie Gaunt, who made that declaration, "there are smart styles and good fabrics in use — but nothing that is particularly revolutionary in style."

GAUNT, WHO HAS designed a huge portion of the costumes that have graced the stage of the Ferrall's Playhouse in Deep Well during the recently concluded season, blames this on nothing more or less than the "American way."

The English born (Lancaster, 23 years ago) Gaunt says that Americans are too conservative in dress, lack the imaginative insight that continentals possess.

"People wear casual clothing here," Gaunt admitted. "But there isn't any real imaginative stylings in evidence."

GAUNT EXPLAINS that there are no new colors, on varying cuts in view in either men or women's clothing. The cause escapes him. "Naturally, I'm concerned," he says. "I love to see people style conscious. I'm hoping they'll get to the place where my ideas seem drab and humdrum."

There is one phase of Palm Springs living that affords Gaunt some measure of reassurance. "Have you ever been to Sherman's after midnight," he asks. "There are some fantastic styles in evidence there."

THE DESIGNER nixed parental designs on his life — they wanted him to be either a historian or a lawyer — and fled from his Windermere home to study fashion in London and Paris.

It wasn't until he'd concluded that and begun to costume for theaters in the London area, however, that Barrie became more than passing successful.

He costumed more than 25 shows in London, then left for the U. S. He caught on quickly here despite a meager background in the theater, itself.

"I've never yet read a play all the way through," he said. "I see the role. I see the person — then I listen."

THE COMBINATION has proved inordinately successful.

"I don't know what I do," he said. "But I haven't missed yet. 'I'd better take that back,' he qualified. 'I did miss on the Juliet gowns in Act I of Romanoff and Juliet.'"

Gaunt predicted that hand woven materials (and sailcloth) would be the more emphasized of this summer's stylings.

"That's in spite of the fact that most manufacturers stay away from radical changes."

GAUNT SAID that he had found a great deal of freedom and more than passing interest in costumeing the Deep Well theater productions.

"The Ferralls let me have my head and I believe that I ran fairly well for them."

"But that's understandable. You see, fashion is largely theater."

In Hunza, a little-known kingdom high in the Himalaya Mountains, men father children at 90. Most people die naturally of old age at about 120 or older and men outlive women.

THE NEXT ATTRACTION FOR Pappy Landfield's Hilltop Room is this exotic singer who'll put in an appearance on Wednesday evening in the popular bistro. Landfield hasn't even revealed her name but the odds are good she'll play to a packed house Wednesday.

Berlios' 'Requiem' Ideal in Stereo Sound

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stereo could have been invented for Berlioz's Requiem, so overwhelming is that vast splattering of musical colors as it comes from a recording made by the Boston Symphony and the New England Conservatory Chorus, Charles Munch conducting.

Getting it onto records in such a way that it comes off with undiminished and undistorted vigor, was a notable technical feat. But this shouldn't cloud Munch's passionate command of a score complicated enough to undo the best fortified of conductorial skills.

BERLIOZ'S BIGGEST work now is comfortable for the living room — with the volume control discreetly adjusted. It remains a work for the lover of the strange turns of an esthetic genius. The recording is beautifully packaged and accompanied by a booklet filled with color reproductions of Last Judgment paintings (RCA Victor-Soria 6077).

Yehudi Menuhin, the esteemed but individualistic violinist, has recorded Bach in his own manner — three concertos in which he was both the soloist and the orchestra conductor, including the double concerto in D minor in which Christian Ferras was the second soloist. Menuhin clearly worked very hard and his interpretive marks are all over the pieces. They're legitimate, of course, but entirely personal (Capitol-SG7210).

AS THIS YEAR'S Pablo Casals Festival opens in Puerto Rico, Columbia is releasing a recording made at last year's, of Casals conducting a highly responsive but somewhat ragged orchestra in Mozart's "Linz" Symphony and Haydn's "Farewell" Symphony.

Dramatic Series

Miss Stanwyck Joins TV Group

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Barbara Stanwyck is joining that exclusive sorority of actresses who star in their own dramatic anthology TV series.
It amounts to a weekly showcase with the center-stage spotlight focused directly on the actress. Who could ask for more?
LORETTA YOUNG, Jane Wyman and June Allyson pioneered the field, and all prospered by being the queen bee in her own bailiwick.
Glamorous Barbara, a top movie star for more than 25 years, has held out against a television series, waiting for — and you'll find this difficult to believe — a western program.
"THAT'S WHAT I wanted to do three years ago," the actress insisted. "There have been many offers, but every time I suggested a horse opera I was told nobody wanted to see a woman star in a western."
"I told them there wouldn't have been anyone to settle the West if it weren't for some of the rough-tough gals."
"I had hoped to play an Annie Oakley-type character."
THE NETWORKS turned her down, but Barbara is getting even in her own feminine way.
Her new show, with the not very original title of "The Barbara Stanwyck Show," hits the coaxial cable next fall — and among the individual segments are several sagebrush sagas.
"I sort of slipped them in," Barbara laughed.
"SO FAR WE'VE filmed 13 shows. The writers strike has us tied up at the moment, but as soon as the strike is settled we'll go back to work again."
"Originally it was planned that I'd appear in only 27 of the 39 shows, but now it looks as if I'll be working in at least 35 of them."
Asked if she was afraid of overexposure, Barbara shook her head.
"THE ONLY TIME a performer is over-exposed is when the shows are bad," she said. "That's true even if you are seen once in a lousy program."
Barbara is taking her lead from Loretta, who has survived the grind for several years.
"Loretta is successful because she has a 'regular pattern of shows,'" she explained. "She knows exactly what she can do, and what she can't do. It works well for her. But perhaps I'll have to find my own formula."
ACCORDING TO Barbara, the time slot and day of a regular series is almost as important as the show itself.
"We'll be on Monday night at 10 o'clock," she said. "People generally stay home on Mondays, so I think we've got everything possible working for us. Now it's up to me."

BRUTALITY HIT BY TV PRODUCER

By DOUGLAS DILTZ
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD — UPB — One of Hollywood's leading TV film executives has taken it upon himself to break away from the "needless brutality" which floods most television series today — and he may be starting a trend.
President Robert W. Stabler of Filmaster, Inc., said it is quite obvious that video audiences are tired of so much violence and that films really don't need it anyway.
"THERE'S TOO MUCH reaching for violence in the films being turned out today," said Stabler, whose outfit filmed the first 156 episodes of "Gunsmoke" and the first 78 of "Have Gun-Will Travel."
"Of course," Stabler hastened to explain, "you can't obliterate violence because, after all, it is reality and we have to accept it as such."
"YOU CAN'T DO away with it altogether, or you become the Bobs Twins."
But, Stabler feels, the pistol-whipping, brawling, judo punching, slapping, et al, have been run into the ground.
AND THE CASSIDY promotion, it might be mentioned, did not play up violence.
The new series "The Beachcomber" and "My Bill," a western.
IN NOVEMBER, 1959, the company launched a vigorous expansion program and Stabler merged three independent companies into Filmaster, Inc.
Stabler, himself, entered the film production field as vice president of Hopalong Cassidy TV Productions after being with Capitol Records. He was responsible for the tremendously successful Hopalong Cassidy promotion.
The success of early Filmaster efforts led to the filming of such other shows as "Death Valley Days," "The Trail Blazers" and "Hannibal Cobb."

'Dear Boss' Letter Gets Riley in Trouble

When a suggestion box is installed at the factory, Riley, figuratively speaking, falls into it. He finds the suggestions contained in his "Dear Boss" tough-type letter meet with little approval at home or work in "Riley and the Suggestion Contest" during KTTV's "Life of Riley" Monday, May 2, 8 p.m., Channel Eleven.
After his best friend, Gillis, had told Riley to assume a little "man-in-command" attitude around his home, he writes a tough note to his wife addressed to . . . "Dear Boss." By accident, Riley drops the letter into the suggestion box at work.
Between his boss at home and his boss at work, who both react strongly to his letter and his explanation, Riley discovers the suggestion box has become a Pandora's box of trouble.
William Bendix stars as Chester Riley, Marjorie Reynolds is seen as Peg, Wesley Morgan as Junior, Eugene Sanders as Babs, Tom D'Andrea as Gillis and Gloria Blondell as Honeybee.

Poor Hitting Blamed for L.A. Slump

Alston Hopes Bats Explode Against Reds

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "Some one ask why we're not doing better," snapped Dodger Manager Walter Alston as he paced up and down the dressing room.

"We're not hitting the baseball," he said when nobody spoke up.

The Los Angeles skipper then went down the list:

Charlie Neal, 176, Don Demeter, 200, Jim Gilliam, 206, Duke Snider, 233 and Gil Hodges with .241.

ALSTON THEN allowed as how there were only a couple of Dodgers hitting like they should. Walley Moon is whacking away at a .351 clip and catcher Johnny Roseboro is hitting .333.

"That's why we're not doing better," announced Alston after the Dodgers had just lost a battle of home runs to the Giants from San Francisco. "We're not hitting like we should."

ALSTON HOPES the Dodgers would wear their hitting shoes to tonight when they face the slugging Cincinnati Reds at the Coliseum. He will throw Roger (The Dodger) Craig at the fence - busting Reds who pack a powerful wallop even though they are in the National League cellar.

RED MANAGER Fred Hutchinson probably will counter with veteran Bob Purkey or flashy southpaw Jim O'Toole against the world champions who—mainly because of San Francisco—find themselves in fourth place four games off the pace set by the surprising Pittsburgh Pirates.

A turn-away ladies-night crowd of 85,005 highly partisan Dodger fans went away disappointed—though not very fast, because of the traffic jam Saturday night after San Francisco bombed Los Angeles and Don Drysdale for 6-3 win.

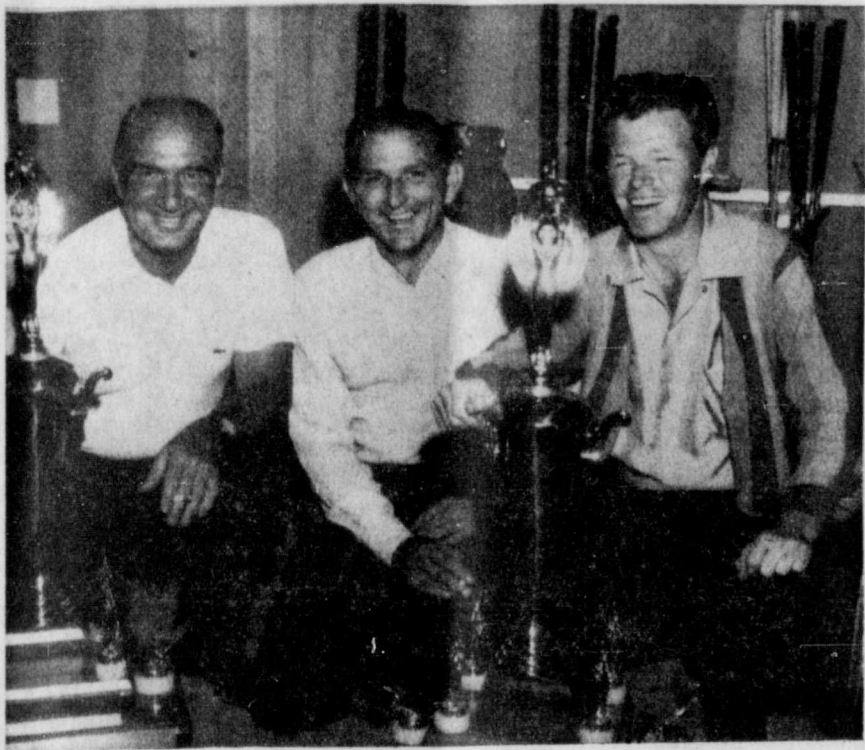

SMITH DYNASTY IS STILL GOING STRONG AT UCLA

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA football fans, impatient for next fall and the razzamatazz of the big weekend games, were content today to know that the Smith Dynasty is still going strong at Westwood Village.

Bobby Smith, the latest of the stars named Smith at UCLA and a tailback from Compton with two years of eligibility remaining, looked sharp in Coach Bill Barnes' 15-minute scrimmage Saturday.

The practice battle was staged before 650 high school and junior college coaches who attended a day-long clinic.

Smith returned a punt 85 yards for a touchdown and passed for two others in the drill which ended the second week of UCLA spring practice.

WINNERS OF THE POW WOW tournament at Indian Wells Saturday were Jack Lomax, left, and Dick Lomax, right, shown with the championship trophies, who came up from far behind to capture top honors with a best ball twosome score of 249. Collins Leads Houston Classic By Two Strokes

HOUSTON, Tex. — (UPI) — Jovial, strapping Bill Collins hoped to ride a third round lead into victory today in the finals of the $35,000 Houston Classic golf tournament.

The blonde, 31-year-old Crystal River, Fla., golfer fired a hot, 35-38 Sunday in pulling two strokes in front of Arnold Palmer, who had a 36-34-70 and four strokes ahead of Jack Fleck of Los Angeles. Fleck had 35-37-72.

THE WEATHERMAN promised the cool, clear weather that favored the golfers Sunday would hold up today. The tourney was pushed another day because of a rainout Friday.

Collins, 6-4, and 210 pounds, won just one tournament in the PGA tour last year — the New Orleans Open. He is having his best year in history, winning almost $9,000 in 13 events.

DOUG FORD OF Crystal River and amateur Richard Crawford of Houston were deadlocked with 211's for fourth place and Billy Maxwell of Oceanside, Calif., and Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N.Y., were next with 213. Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., had a 214 total.

Collins' putting was excellent except on the third hole, where he three-putted for a bogey.

Ex-Boxer Duffy Dies

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (UPI) — James P. "Jimmy" Duffy, a top lightweight from 1910 to 1918, died Sunday in Buffalo Veterans Hospital. Duffy, 71, had been a patient at the hospital for nine years.

POW WOW TAKEN BY LOMAX, JAMES

An easy going, precision playing twosome — Dick Lomax and Jack James — starting the last day of the 54-hole Indian Wells Pow Wow far in the rear, came breaking through in the final day of play to score a best ball 249 to cop the twin trophies of the third annual Pow Wow Saturday.

The twosome led by a total of seven strokes, their strongest competition being Harry Weiner and Harry Dodson, who tallied a 256 for the 54-hole play.

Runnersup in the twosome competition were: 257 — Bart Prom, John Coker; 256 — Elton Hallett, George Carroll — tied — Archie Jacobs, Phil Weintraub; 257 — Bucky Harris, Jack Harselton; 270 — three way tie — Sam Knox, O. K. Berry — Dick Pierce, Jim Williams — Willard Parker, Fred Briskin.

THOMAS, NIEDER PLAN TO BETTER WORLD RECORDS

By United Press International John Thomas and Bill Nieder feel they can better their world records in the high jump and shot put before the summer Olympic Games.

Thomas shattered the world high jump mark in Saturday's Penn Relays at Philadelphia when he jumped 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches. The leap topped the record of 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches set by Russia's Yuri Stepanov in 1957 with the aid of built-up shoes.

Nieder eclipsed the recognized world mark in the shot put the same day in the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa, with a toss of 63 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

Percy O'Brien, who owns the official world standard of 63 feet, 4 inches, could do no better than 63 feet, 1 1/2 inches in five throws.

In Saturday's foursome play, Lomax and James carried another twosome, Harry Divney and Bob Howard to victory for the 18-hole play for that day.

A total of 160 players played the Indian Wells Pow Wow Tournament, which was climaxed with the presentation of top awards to the winners at the famed Pow Wow dinner dance. Identical trophies, some 30-inches in height, were presented to Lomax and James by Indian Wells President Milt Hicks and Pro-Manager Eddie Susalla.

Rainiers Move Past .500 Mark For First Time

By United Press International The Seattle Rainiers, the hottest club on the grapefruit circuit this spring, today have more wins than defeats for the first time since the young Pacific Coast League season got under way.

Seattle, which was 16-4 in exhibition play, climbed above .500 per cent Sunday with an explosive, 9-4, victory over San Diego. Jerry Zimmerman and Lou Skizas hit timely doubles that chased in a total of five runs as Seattle overcame a 4-3 San Diego lead in the eighth inning.

The Rainiers now have nine wins and eight losses for the regular season and share third place with Portland.

In other PCL action Sunday, Spokane held on to its league lead as it split a pair of games with Salt Lake City. The Bees won the first game, 10-5, but the Indians came back for a 4-1 win in the nightcap as 7,133 fans looked on in 40 degree weather.

Portland belted Tacoma, 5 - 0, in a rain-shortened seven inning game at Portland and Sacramento. Spokane's first place held with a 3-1, win over Vancouver in 12 innings.

Pirates Streak Goes On

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press International The White Sox finally made it to the top, the hard way, and could take some lessons now from those surprising Pirates, who keep making it look ridiculously easy.

The road to first place was a rough one for the White Sox, who dropped four of their first six games this season. But they took over the America League lead for the first time by sweeping a doubleheader from the slumping Tigers, 6-3 and 5-2, Sunday.

THAT STRETCHED a winning streak to five games for the White Sox, but they're pikers alongside the Pirates, who are enjoying their longest winning binge in 16 years.

They won their ninth straight by beating the Reds, 13 - 2, and increased their National League lead to two games.

A number of other streaks are going in both leagues.

CLEVELAND RAN its winning streak to four games by taking both ends of a twin-bill from Kansas City, 6-4, and 3-1. The A's, who dropped into the cellar, now have lost four straight. Baltimore knocked New York out of first place with a 9-5 victory. A scheduled double-header between Washington and Boston was postponed because of rain.

In the National League, Milwaukee registered its fourth straight victory with a 5-4 decision over Philadelphia, which has dropped five in a row. The Chicago Cubs halted their four-game losing string with a 5-4 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. San Francisco and Los Angeles were idle.

Race Activity Now Under Way At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The garage area at the Indianapolis Speedway was buzzing with activity today as mechanics and drivers began the grueling job of ironing the bugs out of their race cars in preparation for 500 mile race time trials.

A record total of 31 machines were bedded down in gasoline alley when the track opened for practice Sunday, indicating that such racing veterans as Rodger Ward, last year's winner, Johnny Thompson and Jimmy Bryan may hit the bricks sometime this week.

PASTRANO TO TRY TO TURN TABLES

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Willie Pastrano of Miami Beach will try to turn the tables on heavyweight Alonzo Johnson of Braddock, Pa., in their TV-radio (NBC) fight at Louisville, Ky., Friday night, on the eve of the Kentucky Derby.

Although Johnson narrowly outpointed Willie at Louisville, July 24, the betting is at "even money" now because of Pastrano's four straight victories since then.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S TV (ABC) rounder brings together Harold Johnson of Philadelphia, top light heavyweight contender, and sixth-ranked Clarence Floyd of New York at Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

Johnson, who hasn't been beaten in five years, is favored at 3-1 despite Floyd's victory over contender Von Clay in his latest bout.

THE LARGEST crowd of the week probably will be drawn Monday night at Sydney, Australia, where promoters expect a capacity 12,000 for the return fight between American welterweight contenders Rudell Stutch and Ralph Dupas.

Dupas of New Orleans has a large Australia following because of his classy boxing style and his victory on April 11 over Australian George Barnes, British Empire Champion. Dupas, ranked eighth, was outpointed by second-ranked Stutch of Louisville last Oct. 7 in Louisville.

On Tuesday night at Buffalo, N. Y., Bobby Scanlon and Jackie Donnelly will fight for the New York state lightweight title. Scanlon, who has been boxing out of San Francisco, started his career in Buffalo. He and Donnelly of Buffalo are slated for 12 rounds.

Franks Appears Safely on Way To Second Title

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Enns Mike Franks on a 10-day tennis-playing leave from his Navy duties, appeared today to be on his way to another Southern California tennis championship.

Franks, who defeated Peruvian Alex Olmedo for the title last year, downed Earl Mitchell, Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-1, Sunday in a second round match. He is top-seeded in the tourney at the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

FIGHT RESULTS

TOKYO (UPI) — Takenosuki, 125-lb., knocked out E. T. B. Sano, 125, Thailand, 10.

SHERBROOKE, Que. (UPI) — Burke Emery, 167, Sherbrooke, knocked out Gordie Baldwin, 168, Toronto, 11.

Bally Ache, the dead-game front streaked to a three-length victory over Venetian Way and three other Derby eligibles Saturday as Churchill Downs opened its spring

However, Jimmy Pitt, first noting that Bally Ache came out of the Stepping Stone in fine shape, remarked, "All this time Tompion has been running, I've kept quiet and haven't done much talking.
Now it looks like I've got a big one too."

HE REFERRED to the fact that before Saturday Bally Ache hadn't raced since his Florida Derby triumph in March, but had only worked over the Churchill Downs strip.

In the meantime, however, Tom-pion was running three impressive races at Keeneland, including the Blue Grass Stakes, to establish himself as a Derby favorite.
Liangollen's stable mate, Eagle
Admiral, was scratched from the Stepping Stone and was reported to have knee trouble, but may go in the one-mile Derby trial Tues-

The trial also is expected to at-

Karge Funeral Scheduled Today Wiefels Chapel

Funeral services for Fred W. Karge, 79, 63-618 Palm Vista, were to be held at 1 p.m. today, from the Wiefels and Son chapel, with Dr. James Blackstone, Jr., pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church, officiating.

Karge died at 3:30 p.m., Thursday, at a Riverside hospital following a short illness.

A native of Illinois, he had resided here for 15 years. Retired, he formerly was a manufacturer of cement products.

Survivors include his widow, Emma Karge; one son, Raymond L. Karge of Van Nuys; one sister, Louise Heiden, and a niece, Lucille, Allerman, both of Escondido.

Between five and six million U.S. flags are usually produced each year, according to the National Geographic Magazine, although the figure is running about 20 per cent higher in 1959.
